SNAP Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program

Are You a Community College Student Struggling to Afford Food?

Most low-income community college students are eligible for SNAP benefits.

The maximum SNAP benefit for 1 person is $298/month. Students with spouses or children may be eligible for more.

Other students in career and technical education programs are also SNAP eligible, including:

- Students at Ben Franklin Cummings Institute of Technology
- Students enrolled in local or regional Voc-Tech programs.
